GENERAL NEWS.

Great Loss of Life by the Disaster at Texarkana, Arkansas.

THE PENNSYLVANIA FACTIONS UNABLE TO AGREE UPON SETTLEMENT.

Fatal Explosion at Milton, New York—Fifty-seven Bodies Recovered from the Scioto's Wreck—Storms in Kansas.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LITTLE ROCK, July 14.—Texarkana special: The number of men buried by falling walls in Markham's saloon is estimated at 35 to 75. Up to 6 P. M. 19 bodies had been recovered. Col. Mercer, John Morefield, G. J. Morefield, Robt. Henderson, Nat Rice, Milton Strange, W. B. Russell, John Poland, H. H. Spencer, Tony King, Billy Hinchman, John Lawrence. Badly wounded—Daniel Staples of Richmond, Ark., Prof. A. R. Swinder, Tom Hull, Engineer Guy, Chas. Varnell and Lige Vaughn. Two of the negroes are still alive. All the whites except James Lawrence are dead. The citizens are still at work in the ruins and many more bodies will be recovered before morning. Stores are all closed in respect to the unburied dead.

Another special says: A. W. Manning, known as "Will," who kept the lunch stand, was taken out dead. He came here three weeks ago with his aunt, Mrs. Lowry, from Little Rock. The colored Porter, Isaac Long, was taken out with an arm broken and seriously injured otherwise. Dan Stephens, a saloon man from Richmond, was extricated mortally wounded and is since reported dead. About 11 o'clock the workers recovered the dead body of Mike Mayfield, and removed the debris to below his hips. Fire broke out in the building and while it was impossible to endure the heat one hundred feet away a noble band tried to save the remains. Ropes were finally attached to the body but it could not be moved. It was finally covered with blankets, zinc and bricks. The dead body of W. B. Russell was discovered but could not be taken out. It is known that John Morefield, Col. Mercer, Tom Hull and John Boland of Marshall, father of Tom Boland of Shreveport, are still in the ruins.

The Pennsylvania Situation.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Journal's Washington: Pennsylvania members are divided in opinion regarding the compromise, but a majority think it will not be had. Simon Cameron expresses himself against further action, and says independents evidently only want to ruin the party. Don Cameron expresses little hope of a compromise. Pennsylvania democrats are proposing to nominate L. C. Cassiday as senator to succeed Don Cameron in case they capture the legislature, as they hope to do at the next election. It is probable, however, Randall would claim a place and force Cassiday out.

A Fatal Blast.

MILTON, N. Y., July 14.—On the North Shore road near here yesterday afternoon, Thos. Egan, foreman, was in the act of tamping a hole for blasting in which there were about two pounds of blast powder, when suddenly there was an explosion. Wm. Powers, one of the laborers, who was at work above Egan, says he heard the blast, and hearing shrieks looked down and saw Egan sitting upright with a stone weighing 200 pounds on his feet. He hurried to him and threw it off with an iron bar. He saw two Italians lying dead and two live ones, one of the latter crushed on the breast and the other sitting partly up with his legs partly crushed and a stone on them weighing five tons. They got jacks and endeavored to move the stone, but could not. He will no doubt die. Powers says there were 28 men at work there, and he knows 18 are safe. One foreman of Egan's laborers, named Mike Callahan, was brought to Milton on the boat, and the others cared for as best they could be at the place of the accident. The list of killed and injured is as follows: Killed—Two Italians and a third missing, supposed buried under the ruins; injured—Thos. Egan, foreman; John Fennimore, who will die; Michael Callahan, case serious; James Seymour and B. Horan. Two Italians will die, and an Italian boy, water carrier, will also die. Two more Italians were badly crushed, but their names can't be ascertained, as all are known by numbers only.

Chicago Occurrences.

CHICAGO, July 14.—A circular from Commissioner Fink says the Trunk lines have resolved that the Trunk line agents on the Pacific coast are authorized to draw pre-paid orders for emigrant tickets to San Francisco from New York only. Mr. T. H. Goodman, general passenger agent of the Central Pacific railroad, is alone authorized to draw emigrant orders from other eastern seaports, and is also authorized to draw from New York. It is understood and agreed upon that each Trunk line representative will give immediate notice to this effect to each of their western connections and their own agents.

Some 20 members of the "Old Mossback Platoon," a joined organization made up from members of the St. Bernard commandery in this city, tendered a reception Thursday evening last at the Mercantile club rooms to Hon. C. T. Burgess, eminent commander of Golden Gate commandery, No. 1, of San Francisco, who is now visiting in this city. The occasion was made pleasant in recounting many happy incidents of the trip of the "Mossbacks" to Omaha to meet the Knights Templars of the Pacific coast in August, 1880.

Still Unsettled.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14.—In reply to the proposition for harmonizing differences in the republican ranks in the state, Senator McKee, chairman of the independent republican committee, has written a letter to Jos. V. Cooper, chairman of the regular republican committee, saying the propositions are too important for him to take the responsibility of replying to them, and stating he will first call a meeting of the convention committee. In the meantime he transmits propositions from the independent candidates to the regular candidates for consideration. They say they don't believe any of the propositions submitted would harmonize the party. The independents propose, 1st, withdrawal of both tickets; 2d, candidates to pledge themselves not to accept a subsequent nomination. This is signed by all candidates except Col. McMichael, candidate for congressman at large, who replies declining the proposition of regulars.

Railway Notes.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Officers of the Union Pacific, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and Burlington roads meet here to-day to discuss the admission of the Burlington road to the Colorado pool, and arrange for a basis of uniform rates west of the Missouri river.

It is stated the postal authorities, since the failure of the fast mail via Chicago routes west and by the Wabash east, are now negotiating with a view to its establishment over the Pan Handle from New York to Cincinnati, thence over the Ohio & Mississippi to St. Louis, thence over the new line of the Missouri Pacific to Omaha, thence to connect through to San Francisco over the Union Pacific. Carrying out this plan would necessitate the abandonment of the proposed fast mail service over the Lake Shore road from New York to Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 14.—Representatives of the Colorado pool roads met to-day for the purpose of considering the proposition to admit the Burlington to pool on account of extension of its line to Omaha, and arrange for a basis for division of traffic. The day was spent with no result and adjournment was taken till to-morrow.

A Statement Modified.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The published report that President Villard, of the Northern Pacific, had issued an order that the company lands west of the Missouri river should be sold only to actual settlers and the quantities not to exceed 160 acres is wholly untrue. Directors of the company long ago resolved that purchasers could buy to the extent of 320 acres, or an entire section if guarantee was given of immediate cultivation, the intention being to secure cultivation and prevent large tracts from being absorbed and held by speculators.

Meeting of Hebrews.

SARATOGA, July 14.—The executive board of the union of American Hebrew congregations, representing 15 congregations, held an annual meeting to-day. The question as to what manner the Russian refugees could be best assisted to become self-sustaining was discussed, and it was resolved they should be assisted in learning mechanical trades and also those who are adapted to it undertake farming. It also resolved to issue an appeal to all congregations to appoint committees to solicit aid for Russian Jews and inaugurate a rule that every male Israelite in the United States, from the age of 13 be required to contribute $1 annually to a common fund to aid the poor of Israel.

The Kansas Storm.

ATCHISON, July 14.—Particulars of the storm still come in, showing the damage was not over-estimated. Destruction was complete wherever the clouds struck. Several bad accidents are reported and many wonderful freaks of wind, but no deaths yet. Damage to grain was very considerable.

Prohibitionists in Nebraska.

News from Nebraska leaves little doubt but that state is ready to take up the prohibition question, and is arranging a vigorous prohibition campaign. Liquor men, while conceding an amendment would be adopted readily if submitted to the people, hope to beat the measure in the legislature, as they have already done, and they have the support of most of the daily newspapers.

A Narrow Escape.

CANTON, Ohio, July 14.—Dr. Martin Backtel, while driving along Round creek, was set upon by three men, beaten until unconscious, robbed, and thrown into the stream from a bridge. He chanced to fall into shallow water where he recovered consciousness after two hours. No clue to the robbers.

Crushed to Death.

NASHPORT, Ohio, July 14.—Last night Hon. Daniel Van Vorhies, a prominent citizen, and his son John were repairing a monument in the cemetery, when a piece of granite fell from the top killing the son and inflicting probably fatal injuries on the father.

The Scioto Raised.

WHEELING, W. Va., July 14.—In investigation to-day as to the cause of the Scioto disaster, testimony is conflicting as to whether the pilot was drunk. The vessel has been raised and will be towed here. 57 bodies in all have been recovered.

The Week's Failures.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Failures reported in New York this week 121, against 100 last week. Western and middle states show an increase, while southern and eastern states had 16 less. Western 41, southern 17, middle 32, Pacific 7 and New York city 6. Total 121. New York city failures insignificant.

Business Begins.

DES MOINES, July 14.—Special Judge Duffie of the 4th district holds that the prohibition amendment is now in force and Monday he instructed the grand jury to indict all saloon keepers whether licensed or not.

The Strikers Jubilant.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Freight handlers are jubilant and railroad companies depressed, and success for the men is predicted. Business is nearly at a standstill.

Cases Dismissed.

CINCINNATI, July 14.—The district attorney states it is impossible to obtain convictions under the Sunday liquor law of the state, and has dismissed all pending cases here.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 14.

Discussion sprung up as to order of business, Butler endeavoring to call up the bill establishing a government for Alaska, and Groome asking consideration of the proposition to prevent payment of double pensions, while Morrill antagonized both measures with the internal revenue bill. Quite a heated discussion followed, democrats charging republicans with bad faith in bringing in the bill to reduce taxation on the ground it was for relief of only a small class, and republicans replying that democrats would find the weather very warm on account of their opposition to it when they returned to their constituents.

Morrill moved to postpone consideration of all pending bills until one week from to-day. After debate the motion was agreed to and senate took up the tax bill.

Voorhees, of Indiana, made a speech, in course of which he said he had a letter written by Gen. Hancock, in explanation of his views upon the tariff, in which he declared free trade to be folly. Had it been written three weeks earlier, and circulated throughout the country, Hancock would have been elected president and American history would have been far differently recorded.

Hill, from the postal committee, reported back the bill to punish postmasters for making false certificates of arrival and departure of mails.

After Monday the senate meets at 11 in the morning.

After executive session senate adjourned.

A number of pension bills passed, among them one increasing the pension of Gen. George A. Custer's widow to $50 per month and house bill granting a pension of $50 per month to the daughter of President Taylor.

House pension bill was amended by adoption of a general proposition prohibiting payment of double pensions.

The bill providing that whenever it shall become necessary to increase the speed at which mails are carried, the contract on any post route service shall be readvertised for the shorter schedule required; placed on the calendar.

The tax bill was then taken up and Bayard reviewed and criticized the measure, and said for the first time in the history of the country the senate had originated a bill to change the tariff because party exigency demanded it. He asked if it was such an equivalent and reasonable measure of relief to the masses of the American people as it was now admitted it was their right to receive. Coming to the proposition to give the secretary of the treasury discretion to use the polariscope in testing sugars, he said it was contended this amendment would reduce taxation. He denied it. It took off 25 per cent. ad valorem, but at the same time it introduced a test which would render that reduction nugatory and void.

Sherman asserted there was not the slightest question but the reduction of 25 per cent. would throw off between $9,000,000 and $10,000,000 of taxation.

Bayard then passed on a general review and criticism of the present tariff system to show it had passed from being a tariff for revenue to being a tariff for protection. Protection should be a right not a principle, and it was to protection as a principle he attributed the limited market for American manufactures and consequent labor strikes which were to-day organized throughout the country. If he were right the change could not come too soon that would give to American manufacturers an outlet for their productions and in that way enable them to give their laborers steady employment and prevent recurrence of these labor agitations which periodically disturbed the country.

At conclusion of Bayard's speech, Beck offered an amendment reducing 10 cents per pound the taxes on manufactured tobacco. Pending discussion the matter went over for the day, and after executive session senate adjourned.

House.

A large majority of senate amendments to the general deficiency bill were non-concurred in.

Townshend characterized as a salary grab the item of $43,000 for payment of mileage to senators who attended the special session of the senate on October 10, 1881, and the amendment was non-concurred in. Debate ensued on the amendment creating a board of audit of the first and second comptrollers of the treasury and U. S. treasurer, to whom will be referred all expenses attendant to the sickness, death and burial of President Garfield.

Blackburn, of Ky., characterized the action of the senate in adding this amendment as bordering very close on the insolent, and an infringement on the dignity of the house, an attempt to accomplish an end by surreption. The speaker delivered an eulogy on the character of Garfield and then proceeded to characterize the course of the president's physicians and other claimants in severe terms, and pointed out that no provision was made for pay for Surgeon General Barnes, Surgeon Woodward or Dr. Townsend. All claims should be remitted to the courts for ascertainment of their justice. He denounced the claims of the doctors as frauds.

Taylor, of Ohio, said there was no question of a steal about the matter. The doctors would not accept the solution of the question proposed by the senate. Mrs. Garfield would not permit the claims of the doctors to be litigated. He proceeded to rehearse the old rumors about malpractice, private advices of the president's true condition to Wall street gamblers, and the chief physician crowding out others, closing with the quotation: "Pardon me, thou piece of bleeding earth, that I am meek and gentle with these butchers."

Hiscock deprecated the discussion, and finally, after much more talk, a vote was taken and the senate amendment was non-concurred in. Yeas, 78; nays, 83.

Taylor then asked and obtained unanimous consent to report the bill directing the secretary of the treasury to pay to the widow of the late President Garfield $50,000 less any sum paid to him on account of his salary as president. The bill was read and passed unanimously.

House went into committee of the whole on senate amendments to the river and harbor bill, but as the amendments were not printed, committee rose and they were ordered printed.

The bill to refer all claims and demands against the government to a court of claims for investigation; passed. Also the bill for relief of certain citizens of Tennessee. House took a recess.

The house in evening session agreed to senate amendments to house bill granting a pension to August Miller.

Pension bill passed to No. 40. Among them was senate bill granting an increase of pension to the widow of Gen. Custer. House adjourned.

JACKSON, Miss., July 14.—Judge Jefferds of Issaquena county, ex-judge of the supreme court, was nominated for congress by republicans of the old "shoestring" district to-day.

PORTSMOUTH, O., July 14.—The 11th district republican congressional convention, on the 304th ballot, nominated John W. McCormick.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., July 14.—The democratic congressional convention for this district nominated S. M. Stockslager for re-election.

Working Together.

OSWEGO, N. Y., July 14.—Stalwart and anti-stalwart republicans of the first assembly district, agreed unanimously that both committees act in concert hereafter.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

The Day's Hangings.

YANKTON, Dakota, July 14.—Thos. Egan was hanged to-day for the murder of his wife three years ago. At the first attempt the rope broke, and at the second his neck broke. The condemned man went through the ordeal without flinching.

GALVESTON, July 14.—A colored boy, Dick Hancock, was hanged by masked men on Round prairie, 15 miles from here, to-day.

Robbery and Arson.

VICKSBURG, July 13.—The store of A. Farkas in the eastern suburbs of the city was entered by negroes and Mrs. Farkas murdered in bed, her husband chloroformed and bound, and afterwards the house robbed and set on fire, burning the body of Mrs. Farkas to a crisp. Farkas recovering from the effects of the chloroform escaped. No arrests.

CANADA.

At Owen Sound, Ontario.

OWEN SOUND, July 14.—A fire this morning destroyed several buildings. Loss $50,000.

FIRES.

At Danville, Illinois.

DANVILLE, July 14.—About midnight last night St. Patrick's Catholic church was burned. Loss $30,000; fully insured.

Boise Statesman: The superintendent of construction of the Oregon short line railroad recently wrote Mr. A. Rossi, from Omaha, to know what he would furnish a certain quantity of lumber for per thousand; the lumber to be delivered at Boise City or the nearest point on the railroad from the mill, between Boise City and the Weiser. As the dimensions of the lumber show that it is to be used for bridging, and Boise City being named as a point of delivery it is a pretty strong indication that the company intend to make this place a point on the road.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Randall makes a Supplemental Report on the Chili-Peruvian Question.

THE SUPPOSED ARRANGEMENT FOR FAST MAIL SERVICE A MISTAKE.

The Grand Jury Fails to Indict Anybody or Make Presentment in Star Route Cases—A Plea from Bankers of California.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Robt. Randall has been permitted by the foreign affairs committee to file a sworn statement supplemental to his testimony before that committee in the Chili-Peruvian investigation. The statement is an argument in support of his former testimony, and includes correspondence between himself and Peruvian minister Elmore to show Blaine was mistaken when he testified before the committee that the propositions contained in the programme of the Credit Industrial were entirely inadmissible; that he utterly refused to have anything whatever to do with it, and that he said the United States could not touch it or think of touching it, and utterly rejected it.

Randall says, "I don't believe he ever did to anyone make such a statement as he alleges. I believe his testimony on this point is due to the want of recollection, and as a consequence to quote his own words of the fact—that he was very busy on other matters at that time." I will show to the committee that he always entertained the programme and far exceeded events in his endorsement and enthusiasm; that to use my own words in my previous testimony the propositions I made were entirely satisfactory to him; that he considered them feasible in every way; that he, "representing the foreign department of the United States," would carry them out; that is, he would utilize the programme so that the payment of indemnity was absolutely necessary on the part of Peru to Chili—so as to prove the territorial integrity of Peru; that the Credit Industrial was the only institution or party able to prepare and willing to pay so large a sum for Peru as $30,000,000. Randall appends to the letter of Elmore this concluding statement: "Mr. Blaine in his testimony affects to speak of the proposition of the Credit Industrial as most extraordinary, and to allege by implication that they offered no ground on which the government of the United States could even entertain them. I need not dwell on the singular treatment which Blaine in this language bestows upon his predecessor (Evarts), who had both considered and approved these propositions, which came from bona fide creditors of Peru, including American holders of at least four millions of legitimate Peruvian securities; that they asked no financial assistance from the United States government, that they were intended to facilitate an object of common importance to all American nations, and that by accepting and acting upon them the United States would have acquired as Evarts saw and as Blaine in repeated conversations gave other persons than myself reason to believe that he also saw, great and lasting moral and political preponderance in affairs of South America, involving real control of the Isthmus of Panama without expenditure of a dollar of American money and without burning a fuse or firing a shot.

Passage of the Internal Revenue Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—A spicy political debate preceded consideration of the internal revenue bill in the house to-day. As this bill passed the house it provided mainly for abolition of bank taxes, or taxes on proprietary medicines. There was such a clamor from the west for a reduction of those taxes that bear directly upon the people that republican senators determined to add to the bill provisions lowering duties on steel rails and sugars. The democrats hoped that congress would adjourn without making any more reductions than were proposed in the house bill, because the responsibility for such failure would rest upon the majority, but they could not, however, consistently vote against consideration of the bill as amended. In debate early this afternoon democrats claimed that reduction of duties was agreed upon by caucus because the republicans were afraid to enter the campaign next fall upon the record made thus far by the republican majority, and that changes proposed in the tariff laws indicated a want of confidence in the tariff commission, and that the reduction proposed on the duty on steel rails and sugar was a delusion and snare intended to hoodwink people and supply republican stump speakers with ammunition for the campaign. Republicans maintained that the position of democrats on consideration of the bill showed that they were insincere in their profession of a desire to reduce taxation. The republicans were a trifle uncertain this morning what the ultimate issue of the bill would be. It was asserted that Hoar and Davis would not vote for the bill unless it provided for reduction of duty on steel blooms, since of influential steel manufacturers in Worcester, having requested the senators to vote for such reduction. A representation of the sugar trade were in force against the proposed use of polariscopes as provided in the bill, as a test in determining the double standard of sugar. The sugar men profess to have received assurances from republican members of the house, that the polariscope feature of the bill will be rejected in that body, even if accepted by the senate. Senator Voorhees surprised his democratic friends by making a strong protection speech. He asserted privately that Senators Camden and Davis, of West Virginia, Morgan, of Alabama, Hall, of Florida, and one or two other democratic senators, will stand firm against the free trade theories of a majority of democratic senators.

A Plea from the Banks.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Senator Miller received the following telegram from San Francisco yesterday:

SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.

To J. F. Miller: The present revenue law taxing capital stocks and deposits of savings banks is unjust in its operation, discriminating as it does against these institutions in this state, statistics showing that they pay nearly the whole amount realized from such taxes. The net rate of interest now received by California savings banks are no higher than those of the eastern states, while our average rates of dividends to depositors are equally less. It is of vital importance that the house bill for the repeal of such taxes pass the senate this session. Please assist. Signed: Jas. De Fremery of Savings Union, L. E. Gottig of German Savings and Loan society, Robert L. Tobin of Hibernia Savings and Loan society, Adolph C. Weber of Humboldt Savings and Loan society, John Brickhill, president of Savings and Loan society, Jerome Lincoln of Security Savings bank and L. Megazzan of French Savings bank.

The action of the senate yesterday in taking up house internal revenue bill shows that a majority in both houses is in favor certainly of that proposition, removing taxes on banks. The bill will be passed this session unless it is so loaded down with tariff amendments in the senate that it fails to get through the house.

The Press Mistaken.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Postmaster General Howe said to-day the press was mistaken in announcing that arrangements for a through fast mail train between New York and San Francisco had been completed via the Baltimore & Ohio, Cincinnati & St. Louis and Kansas City & Denver roads. The error arises from the establishment of a new line of double daily postal service over a portion of that route, but no arrangement is completed for reaching the Pacific coast via Denver. Attempts, however, to secure a fast mail between these points are not yet abandoned, notwithstanding opposition of the pool roads west of Chicago. It may be possible to make an arrangement with the Erie and Wabash systems; but, of course, as long as the pool roads decline to accept the government's terms, it will be necessary to go around Chicago.

Confirmations.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Lewis Wallace of Indiana, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Turkey; Henry C. Hall, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Central America; J. P. Wyckersham of Pennsylvania, minister resident and consul general to Denmark; M. J. Cramer of Kentucky, minister resident and consul general to Switzerland; John A. Halderman of Kansas, minister resident and consul general to Siam; A. S. Sharp of Kansas, consul at Manila; S. B. Axtell of Ohio, chief justice of supreme court of New Mexico; J. A. McKee, U. S. marshal for the northern district of Texas; Gustave Schneider, U. S. marshal for Wyoming; Joseph W. Robbins of Illinois, surveyor general of Arizona; Commodore A. K. Hughes was confirmed rear admiral and Capt. W. K. Mayo, commodore.

House Caucus.

After adjournment last night the house held a caucus and considered the matter of taking up contested election cases, but action was deferred to another time. It was decided that the house proceed with consideration of senate amendments to the general deficiency appropriation bill and that the next order of business be consideration of the river and harbor bill as amended by the senate.

Conkling wants to Make Up.

New York special: Ex-Senator Conkling's speech at Utica is very generally interpreted here as a desire on his part for a truce and peace between the two factions of republicans in this state. The ex-senator's admissions that there is much in the present condition of the country to make the party think together, act together and feel together, and bring them toward each other who thought apart in the crisis and days that are gone, are believed by more thoughtful politicians to be somewhat more real than idle sentiment, and that proof of the fact will be found in the approaching state convention, where the irritating distinction of stalwarts and half breeds will not be tolerated longer. This is the way Conkling's friends and even such typical half breeds as Collector Robertson are talking, and as it is claimed the administration is in harmony with their views, it is just possible the Utica orator foreshadows that the lion and the lamb are once more to lie down together.

A Military Telegraph Line.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—There has been appropriated by the sundry civil bill which passed the house $75,000 for construction, maintenance and use of the military telegraph line on the Indian and Mexican frontiers, and in the northwest, for better protection of immigration and frontier settlements from depredations, especially in Texas, Nevada, New Mexico, Arizona, Dakota, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Indian Territories. Under provisions of the act approved March 3, 1875 and June 20, 1878, it is provided that out of this sum the secretary of war be authorized to purchase in his discretion the Cheyenne and Black Hills telegraph line, running from Fort Laramie, Wyoming, to Deadwood, Dakota, with branch line running from Hot creek, Wyoming, to Fort Robinson, in Nebraska, and all telegraph line material, instruments, batteries, repair tools and office furniture for operation and repair of said line at a price to be fixed in his discretion, at not exceeding $15,000. Also provides all receipts from private messages sent over military telegraph lines may be expended for maintenance of said lines, but account thereof shall be kept and rendered to congress.

Star Route Trials.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—In the star route trial Blair, who was on the stand yesterday, was recalled and testified in effect that members of the firm of contractors appear to have signed the names one of another indiscriminately. Letters from Gov. Pitkin and Chief Justice Thatcher of Colorado were declared by witness to be in Rerdell's writing with the exception of signatures.

A Cowardly Political Murder.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The murder of Colonel L. W. R. Blair, in Camden, S. C., July 4th, is regarded by South Carolinians here as a high handed political outrage. The details of this atrocious murder and shallow pretense of punishment of the murderer is given by a trustworthy correspondent, who says: Col. Blair was entirely unarmed, having nothing but his usual walking stick, and made no threat or attempt to use even that. He was a brave old man, (70 years old) who was never known to commence a quarrel or take advantage of an enemy. No instance can be given in which he ever, during his long life, assaulted or shot any one in a personal quarrel. He did not threaten or attack the man who shot him. The casus belli was purely political. Bourbons were his bitterest foes. They had mobbed him in presence of Hampton, Kennedy & Co. in 1880, when he was Greenback candidate for governor, and they had persistently persecuted and slandered him afterwards. His private character being irreproachable they could not assail it. The man who slaughtered him was chairman of the Democratic club, an ex-rebel captain. Haile had said and circulated it that Blair had held meetings with negroes at night. This was done to break his influence over his white adherents, and to goad and irritate him. Blair had pronounced the man who had said it a liar, and this he would not retract. Haile was the party who should have withdrawn his false utterance and retracted first, and then Blair could and would have withdrawn his offensive epithets, and no man would have done so more readily. Blair made no demand on Haile and no threat against him. I follow the ex-parte Democratic accounts strictly and you will find them just as I state. Haile shot him to death on his refusal. He shot five times in as many seconds with a Winchester rifle taken from the Democratic auditor's office, where it was conveniently at hand ready loaded.

The auditor's office not being open for business, was unlocked, and Haile had the entree. When he stepped into that office and closed the door did Blair follow him? By no means. When he came out with the murderous weapon in his hand did Blair advance on him or attack him? By no means. Blair was still standing where he left him in front of the court house, waiting for assembling of the people to hold a mass meeting, which had been fully advertised, and where Blair, as leader of the anti-Bourbons, was to have spoken. Blair had the people of his county organized, and could not be defeated or answered except by democratic rifle shots.

Sensation Created.

There was a great sensation and court and counsel expressed profound surprise when the grand jury in the star route cases entered and announced they had found no indictments and made no presentment. The jury was dismissed until Oct. 9th.

Washington Notes.

A disgraceful discussion occurred in the house this afternoon over the Garfield illness expenses as provided by the senate amendment to the deficiency bill. Springer, Blackburn, McMillan and other democrats attacked the character of the medical attendance given Garfield and talk about surgical operations in all their details was both disgusting and painful. Republicans asked in the name of decency and regard for the memory of the dead and for the feelings of the living family that the debate be closed, but the democrats would have it.

Senator Hill, of Colorado, introduced an amendment in the senate to-day which will be moved in the sundry civil bill as considered in that body. The amendment appropriates fifty thousand dollars to be used by the geological survey to investigate mining and minerals and deposits of coal, iron and oil on the public domain.

Patent Confirmed.

The commissioner of the general land office has transmitted to the surveyor general of California a patent for that part of the rancho San Ramon, confirmed to Leo Morris. It contains 4450 95-100 acres, and it is situated in Contra Costa county.

CALIFORNIA.

Organizing for Action.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Eighteen republican clubs of the city organized last evening for the coming political campaign by the election of officers, appointment of committees, etc. Thus far the total enrollment of members of the clubs reach about 1800.

Anniversary Celebration.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—The anniversary of the fall of the Bastile was celebrated here to-day by a procession, oration at the Grand opera house and fine pyrotechnic display at Woodward's gardens to-night. A great number of flags were displayed about the city—French, American, Italian and German.

Statistics.

During the month of June arrivals in San Francisco were: By sea, 4014; by rail, 4915. Departures: By sea, 1379; by rail, 3791. For the first half of the current year the arrivals were: By sea, 24,111; departures, 5816; gain, 18,295; arrivals by rail, 27,916; departures, 18,238; gain, 9678; total gain, 27,973.

San Francisco Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Juan B Alverado, governor of California from 1836 to 1843, died at San Pablo yesterday, aged 73.

J. A. Wetherbee, arrested last Tuesday on a charge of stabbing Jacob Urban, cut his throat with a case knife in the city prison to-day while on the way up to the police court room. The wound is probably fatal. He asked in case of death to have his stomach examined for traces of poison, which he claimed Urban had administered to him.

The steamships Malabar and Triumph are both due here from Hongkong with cargoes of coolies.

Bonds are prepared for the release of the British steamship Serapis from the United States marshal, who has had a keeper on board for a week under libel proceedings to recover $4000 for irregular construction of passenger berths on her recent voyage from Hongkong.

The board of health to-day passed an order releasing the steamer Belgic from quarantine. She will probably dock to-morrow.

Mining Matters.

NEVADA, Cal., July 14.—On the 22d of this month a miners' convention will be held in this city for the purpose of adopting measures looking toward the construction of suitable dams to keep back debris from mines and prevent it from flowing into rivers. It is expected that the convention will be attended by prominent mining men and engineers from all parts of the state. Several of the large hydraulic mines have already commenced building dams. The object of the convention is to adopt co-operative measures, so that various companies can join in the work.

The sluice in the True Blue mine at Little York was cleaned up Wednesday night by robbers, and all the amalgam stolen. Chinamen are suspected.

ARIZONA.

Desperadoes Killed.

TOMBSTONE, July 14.—A Calabasas correspondent of the Epitaph writes that three desperadoes were killed in Sonora by a pursuing party a few days ago. The desperadoes took a hand in killing three men near Calabasas last Sunday.

Mexican Notes.

TUCSON, July 14.—Star special, Guaymas, 13: The revenue cutter brought in upwards of two hundred criminals from Mazatlan. They came from the penitentiary of San Juan de Ulteau, state of Jalisco, and are mostly revolutionary convicts, with sentences ranging from five to ten years. On their disembarkation they were conducted under guard to the Cuartel, where they were washed and furnished with soldier suits. They left this morning for Hermosillo, where they will be sent immediately to the front and will be impressed into service against the Apaches as infantry.

Two sailors off the heads Saturday last saw a large serpent about half a mile off. It made directly for them. They immediately commenced pulling for shore, which was about a quarter of a mile distant. Before reaching land the monster had nearly caught up with them, but they succeeded in making it in time. They say it would measure at least 80 feet in length and was of the width of a barrel. The head resembled that of an eel, and the tail was wide like a fan. It had also a hairy-like substance for at least twenty feet on its back.

A large gang of cowboys are in operation at the end of the track and Magdalena. They are from Charleston, Arizona, and are en route here. They stand up every person they met and beat them afterwards. Active preparations are being made by authorities for their suppression.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Grand Lodge Adjourned.

OLYMPIA, July 14.—The Grand Lodge of A. O. U. W. closed its session last night. The new constitution was adopted. Portland was selected for next place of meeting. The clambake yesterday was pronounced a general success,—the festivities closing with a grand ball last night.

Accident.

A team belonging to O'Connor & Milroy ran away on the long bridge this morning. I. Harris, a merchant, was thrown out and sustained severe injuries, the extent of which are yet unknown. The driver was thrown out but not hurt.

No Damage.

The fire at Mud bay was extinguished without doing much damage.

THE WAR IN EGYPT.

Alexandria Sacked and Burned by Bedouins after its Evacuation.

THE KHEDIVE AND DERVISCH PASHA RESCUED AND EMBARKED.

Arabi Pasha Supposed to be Intrenched near the City—The British Sending Troops to the Front and a Battle Expected Soon.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONDON, July 13.—Another correspondent at Alexandria telegraphs: "I went ashore to-day and found Arabi Pasha had gone to Kefrel Dewar, about an hour's journey from Alexandria, where he is reported as intrenching. The troops have blown up the railway between himself and Alexandria. General Stone, an American, formerly a great rival of Arabi Pasha, escaped with the khedive but left his family at Cairo.

A gunner on board the Alexandra performed a gallant deed. A light shell fell on the main deck and the gunner picked it up and immersed the burning fuse in a bucket of water. This is described as more gallant than anything of the sort ever before chronicled. The gunner will be recommended for the Victoria cross.

I interviewed the khedive's private secretary after the khedive got afloat. He informed me that on the morning after the bombardment Arabi Pasha suddenly ordered a detachment of soldiers to surround the palace where the khedive and Dervisch Pasha were awaiting the issue of events. Arabi first declared the soldiers were only meant for the protection of the khedive but at the last moment he actually told the men to kill the khedive. The soldiers, however, hearing the English approaching, deserted their posts everywhere.

The City Completely Sacked.

A dispatch from Alexandria says refugees were chiefly Greeks and Italians, only one being English. Twenty-seven of these came from the Egyptian bank, whence they made attacks on the mob, driving them away. The manager gave shelter to friends from the Banque Generale and from the Credit Lionnais. These with the manager marched in a body to Marina at four in the morning, after the mob, satiated with butchery, had retired. The soldiers and mob, joined by hundreds of women, sacked every shop, entered the houses of Europeans and murdered the inmates. The marines who landed took rations for the day. The party detailed for spiking guns landed at Fort Kuebe and dismantled the large smooth-bore pieces. Admiral Seymour wished to land marines and take possession of Fort Napoleon and march to Cam-el-Dik, but on learning that the fort was mined and a large body of soldiers stationed at Cam-el-Dik, operations were postponed. The Condor has gone to Port Said.

The American admiral performed a graceful act Tuesday. He steamed around the fleet and his men cheered each ship in succession.

The queen has telegraphed Seymour a despatch of congratulations on his success.

LONDON, July 14.—The News this morning says: There is reason to believe if Turkey declines or hesitates to restore order in Egypt the conference will summon England to land a force for that purpose. Germany and Austria have telegraphed Gladstone their approval of the action of the fleet. A correspondent at Constantinople says the minister considers Turkish troops and iron clads should go to Egypt at once, and the sultan is considering the project.

Doomed to Destruction.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Herald's Alexandria special: Col. Long and party entered the town this morning. They were told that the town was in the hands of the Bedouins and the European quarters had been fired. They proceeded up the harbor to the palace, the whole central and European quarter of the city being in flames. One wing of the palace was badly damaged by shells and neighboring buildings in the Arab quarter badly injured, but not altogether burned down. All European streets leading from the grand square were burning. The fire was estimated to cover a mile in area. The Bedouins entered the city last night, sacked it and set it on fire. The natives were nowhere to be seen. We were told that they had fled towards the canal. Egyptian soldiers are in considerable force in the neighborhood of Moharrambey and the outer part of the city and suburbs. The soldiers in their retreat did nothing to check the conflagrations and the sacking was left to Bedouins to do what they pleased. Our opinion is that the whole European quarter was doomed to destruction, and not a hand to arrest the career of devastation.

Protection of Americans at Alexandria.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Secretary Frelinghuysen says, in answer to inquiries as to safety of our officials and countrymen at Alexandria, that we have no consul in that city, but our vice-consul is a resident of the place and an Israelite, and one of the members of the consular court at Alexandria, Judge Batchelder, is in this country on leave, and he understands the other two American judges had gone into the country about a month ago. One vessel from the Mediterranean squadron was sent to Alexandria for protection of American residents. As the difficulty increased two other ships were sent thither from the same squadron. About ten days ago inquiry having been made by the American board of foreign missions, Secretary Frelinghuysen telegraphed to the vice consul asking as to the safety of missionaries. He received answer to the effect that they were all safe on our vessels or had gone to the interior. He trusts, therefore, American residents at Alexandria have suffered none. An official communication from Admiral Nicholson states there has been some destruction of property in Alexandria belonging to Americans, but no loss of life among them so far as he has yet been able to ascertain.

Europeans Rescued.

A correspondent on board the Invincible telegraphs as follows:

OFF ALEXANDRIA, July 13, 1 P. M.

After daybreak this morning a number of persons were seen on the edge of the water of the harbor. Glasses showed them to be Europeans. Boats were at once lowered and the crews, armed to the teeth, started to the shore. They found about 150 Europeans, many of them wounded, who had gathered in the Anglo-Egyptian bank and had resisted desperately. They had maintained themselves throughout the night. Towards daylight their assailants drew off and the party made their way to the shore. They reported that Arabi Pasha before he left with his troops had the prisons opened and that the convicts, joined by the lower classes and some Bedouins, proceeded to sack the city and kill the inhabitants.

Alexandria Occupied by the British.

OFF ALEXANDRIA, July 13.—The firing heard in Alexandria yesterday was by marines and soldiers, who were dispersing plunderers with gatling guns. The small detachment first landing had to wait for reinforcements before they were able to push to the center of town. There was some short and sharp fighting. No water could be obtained, owing to the stoppage of works. There are some French ladies among the fugitives, rescued yesterday; also the Egyptian prefect of police who succeeded the instigator of the massacre in Alexandria on the 11th of June. There are not enough sailors and marines to occupy all streets of the city.

LONDON, July 14.—Reuter's Alexandria special: Some field pieces were landed with the marines at Ras-el-Tin fort. The palace was looted shortly before the marines arrived. A whole battalion of Arabs were blown up in one fort during the bombardment.

Col. Long Enters Alexandria.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Herald's Alexandria: Col. Long, African explorer and acting American consul at Alexandria, and party entered the city this afternoon, followed by a battery of gatling guns, which engaged the rear guard of Arabi's army, who had fled. The massacre of the 11th of June was avenged by the Inflexible's 80 ton guns, as 1300 Arabs are dead and 2000 wounded.

Arabs Waiting to Attack.

Rear Admiral Hoskins has transferred his flag to the Penelope and has sailed for Port Said. The fire in the city is still increasing, and men are seen running about with torches completing the work of destruction. Arabs are still looting the town. Admiral Seymour had determined to land a force but refugees informed him that 9000 Egyptians occupied a position in the outskirts of the city ready for attack, while Admiral Seymour could only land 3000 men. He, therefore, instead of landing men ordered shots fired over the city in order to frighten rioters. Twenty armed Europeans who escaped the general massacre were told by a pasha whom they met on their way through town, that Egyptians killed numbered over 600. The English and French consulates were burned to the ground.

Alexandria Burned.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14—4 P. M.—The town is totally burned and the houses from Grand square to the custom house have been plundered. In the square itself and other wealthy European quarters there is hardly a building not ruined or still burning. The court house of the international tribunal has so far escaped. The Anglo-Egyptian bank is also preserved. The streets are strewn with empty clock and jewel cases and similar debris. But very few bodies have been found. Two-thirds of the troops deserted during the bombardment. After the khedive's palace had been surrounded a party of soldiers entered his apartment and declared they had orders to kill him and burn the palace. After long parleying, their loyalty was bought by promises of money, and they then escorted the khedive to the British at Ras-el-Tin. His guard was not allowed to enter the palace there with him. All the ministers except Arabi Pasha presented themselves at Ras-el-Tin palace at 5 o'clock.

Clearing the City.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—At 3 o'clock this afternoon a detachment of marines marched through the town. Some plunderers caught in flagrante delicto were summarily shot.

It is stated Arabi Pasha has only 4000 very much disorganized troops. Two thousand marines have been ordered to march through the town and shoot all persons rioting.

A party of blue jackets landed at Fort Gabarre and spiked 10 guns in position this morning and the Monarch fired at and soon destroyed another battery.

A dispatch from Alexandria at 9:15 this evening says a strong body of men from the fleet, joined by detachments from neutral ships, have gone ashore to stop looting and incendiarism.

The City Guarded by Marines.

THE TELEGRAPH STEAMER CHILTERN, OFF ALEXANDRIA, July 14—8 P. M.—The marines patrolling the town embarked in the Bittern this evening. A large party of British, assisted by men from neutral men-of-war, remain to keep order in the town to-night. It is again reported that Arabi Pasha is outside the town with a strong force, but nothing absolutely certain is known concerning his movements. The khedive, according to latest accounts, was at Ras-el-Tin palace in safety.

General War Notes.

LAVALETTA, Malta, July 14.—The Orontes has landed her troops and proceeded to Cyprus and Egypt.

Four hundred and fifty of the household cavalry leave England to-morrow week, destination unknown.

The Times this morning says: By the last outrage Arabi Pasha has put himself outside the pale of humanity, and he must be followed and his army dispersed. It is satisfactorily known that British preparation is complete and that we are ready to carry out the will of Europe if no other nation be found to do the work. Should the porte still hold back Lord Dufferin will state in the conference that England is prepared to undertake the task, but will welcome the cooperation of any other government.

The Standard says the admiralty propose to request Admiral Seymour to furnish full report of the performance of each ironclad, with details of the working of the armament.

Times Berlin: It is reported that the German Corvette Nymph has been ordered to Egypt.

News Alexandria: The number of persons massacred by the mob is estimated at 2000.

Admiral Seymour telegraphs: "I have occupied Ras-el-Tin palace with marines and spiked the guns in six batteries opposite. The city is still burning, but I am clearing the streets. The khedive is safe in the palace, which is garrisoned by 700 marines.

ALEXANDRIA, June 14, 9:30 A. M.—An explosion occasionally occurs in the city. A proclamation in Arabic is preparing in the khedive's name calling on people to maintain order and on troops to disband.

Gen. Sir Garnett Wolseley is expected at Petral. He said Sunday if Arabi Pasha makes a stand at Rosetta or Damanhour, Sir Garnett will have to proceed to Alexandria.

The marines also spiked 15 Armstrong guns of the newest pattern. Some of them were disabled, and beneath one of them were seven dead bodies of Arabs. One hundred and fifty marines hold the arsenal gate. At the custom house gate there are 190 marines with gatling guns, who will remain all night. Marines have killed many looters. A crowd with a green flag passed down the principal streets in the Arab quarter to-day shouting, "The governor tells people not to leave;" but being panic stricken they pay no heed to him. It is reported that six persons were massacred at the French consulate. The khedive will embark from Ras-el-Tin to-day on board a Turkish ship.

GIBRALTAR, June 14.—The British troop ship Malabar has proceeded east with the 46th regiment.

NICOSIA, Cyprus, July 14.—The Minotaur, Agincourt and Northumberland have arrived at Lunassol. The Minotaur with a siege train and 20 guns sailed for Egypt during the night.

LONDON, July 14.—Gen. Sir Garnet Wolseley is in London in consultation at the war office to-day, and is ready to proceed east at a moment's notice.

TUNIS, July 14.—A French squadron of seven iron clads under Admiral Kranz is off La Goletta.

A Diplomatic Dispatch.

LONDON, July 14.—Reuter's Constantinople: Musurus Pasha, Turkish ambassador at London has telegraphed the porte that Earl Granville has informed him that England is compelled to proceed vigorously against the Egyptian rebels, but that the sovereign rights of the sultan will be in no way prejudiced thereby.

The Situation at Port Said.

The gunboat Iris has arrived at Port Said and lies with one broadside bearing on the town and another upon an Egyptian corvette commanded by one of Arabi Pasha's officers. There are 428 British subjects, 500 Egyptian soldiers and 200 police at Port Said.

England and France in Accord.

LONDON, July 14.—A dispatch from Paris published in a semi-official form says: Accord between England and France continues, and they are expected to come to a beneficial understanding in regard to Egypt.

A British Steamer Captured by Arabs.

LONDON, July 14.—A dispatch from Port Said reports that the steamer Glenlyon from China with a cargo of new season teas is ashore in Suez canal and being looted by Arabs.

An Unfounded Rumor.

LONDON, July 14.—The report that the steamer Glenlyon, from China, with a cargo of teas was ashore in Suez canal and being looted is entirely unfounded. No signs are yet apparent of any attempt to block the canal. The entrance thereto, however, has been prohibited.

End of the Conference.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 14.—The council of ministers broke up without adopting any definite resolution, but Said Pasha visited Lord Dufferin, and it is understood upon the latter's statements the course of the porte will depend.

The Khedive all Right.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14.—The khedive with Dervisch Pasha and some ministers and the khedive's harem, have arrived aboard a vessel in the harbor. About five hundred loyal troops follow the khedive.

Arabi Pasha a Rebel.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 14.—In last evening's meeting of the council the prime minister, Said Pasha, maintained that Arabi Pasha was a rebel and must be treated as such.

Greece Ready for Business.

ATHENS, July 14.—The Messenger de Athens confirms the report that the government has expressed its readiness to join with a corps of 7000 men in intervention in Egypt.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Parliamentary Proceedings.

LONDON, July 13.—In the house of lords, Earl Granville, foreign secretary, stated if the fleet at Alexandria required the assistance of troops they would be sent. There was, he said, no reason to believe that any of the great powers regarded the bombarding of Alexandria as other than the act of self-defense. Various statements are published showing that the government is making arrangements to construct a temporary railway for the conveyance of troops into the interior of Egypt should it become necessary. Two batteries of field artillery at Portsmouth have been ordered to equip for embarkation, and the troop ship Assistance has sailed for Ireland to take on board a strong detachment of marines. It is supposed they will be sent to Alexandria.

In commons Gladstone stated Consul Cartwright had telegraphed that the khedive had secured the loyalty of the cavalry and infantry guard sent to watch him and would summon the leading pashas and endeavor to re-establish order in Alexandria. Cherif Pasha is among those named as having been summoned by the khedive. Arabi Pasha fled from Alexandria in a boat by canal, but it is not known whither his troops are dispersing.

ALEXANDRIA, July 14, 9 A. M.—Artillery have been assigned to fort Napoleon commanding the town. Fort Marabout to-day hoisted Egyptian colors, but lowered them again on the British squadron assembling around it. The fleet has been ordered to do no other damage unless provoked. The American squadron has returned to the inner harbor.

LONDON, July 14.—The commons in committee to-day passed clause 1 of the arrears bill without division.

John Bright Resigned.

The press association says it understands on the best authority that John Bright has resigned from the cabinet.

Sporting Notes.

The British rifle team to take part in the international shooting match at Creedmoor will sail for New York in the steamer Alaska on the 26th of August. They will take up quarters at Garden City hotel, Long Island. The scores so far made by the team are no criterion of their strength, as none of the men will use the Martini rifles, but most of them will shoot with the Metford rifle.

Under the Repression Act.

DUBLIN, July 14.—A special gazette issued this morning proclaims the counties of Cavan, Leitrim, Longford, Westmeath, Sligo, Roscommon, Mayo, Tipperary, Kilkenny, Waterford, Limerick, Cork, Clare, Derry, Louth and Dublin, and cities of Limerick, Cork, Waterford, Kilkenny, Dublin, Londonderry, Galway and Drogheda, and two baronies in Monaghan and two in Armagh under repression act.

Disaster on a Russian Railroad.

MOSCOW, July 14.—A train with 217 persons on board ran off the rails between Echerni and Bassilgem and 178 were killed. Those not killed were injured more or less.

Foreign Notes.

It is not improbable that government may consider itself called upon to stop Pat. Crowe's movement for a dynamite convention.

A News dispatch from Marseilles states despite the fact that it is a national fete day work will be carried on at Toulon arsenal.

PARIS, July 14.—The committee of the chamber of deputies is unanimously in favor of granting naval credits.

The Puyallup Hop-Growers' Association will meet on Saturday, the 22d of July, to perfect a permanent organization and select agents to go to British Columbia to procure hop pickers. The need of such an organization has long been felt, particularly by those who live far up the river and are at a disadvantage from their position. The Indians have a system among themselves. They come in a gang and will not divide up when only a part are needed at one place. System on the part of the growers could regulate this, as well as the size of boxes, pay, etc. The system of bidding up and petting Indians to break engagements works great annoyance. When a rancher goes to meet a gang of Indians that he has engaged to work for him, and finds that they have gone to work elsewhere for higher promised pay, ill feeling is engendered. By this organization gambling and drinking with Indians could be stopped. Though there has been plenty of help for the last two years, yet soon this will not be the case, and new places will be searched by agents for labor. Few Indians have come to pick from Quinault, Neah Bay and Chehalis, but it is only a question of time till the whole work of picking and drying will be done by Chinamen.

Tacoma Ledger: Ninety piles are standing as a commencement on the foundation of the coal bunkers, these being the centers for their respective clusters of five piles each—45 equi-distant for the south and the same number for the north bunker. In driving piles around the centers in order to form the cluster it was found necessary to make a specially devised tool to be used as a guide. This tool of complex combination, and baffling to all efforts at description within reasonable space, as represented verbally by one of the engineers, is to be attached to the centers and will throw out iron arms to contain and hug the outside piles and hold them level while the hammer strikes. From now on the work will go forward rapidly.

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 15, 1882

A WORD TO WOOL GROWERS.

The best quality of Eastern Oregon wool is worth to-day twenty-three cents per pound in this market. The best quality of Willamette valley wool is worth two cents per pound more. When the superior advantages of the last named section are considered, and the fact remembered that for years its wool has ranged in the markets from six to twelve cents above the product of Eastern Oregon, this seems unaccountable. But the explanation is easy. For five years the growers of Western Oregon, with one or two exceptions, have done nothing to maintain or improve the breed of their flocks. Careless breeding has "run down" the grade until the markets scarcely recognize the distinction of locality, which once, and but a few seasons back, gave the Willamette valley wool its extraordinary value. Secure in fine ranges and in nearly all the advantages of "situation," our producers through lack of interest and enterprise, have lost status in the markets and with it very large consequent profits.

On the other hand, wool growers of Eastern Oregon have steadily bred up their flocks to a high grade. Overcoming the disadvantages of dirty and alkali ranges, lack of shelter and severe winters, they are able to offer qualities of wool fully equal when scoured to the best product of the Willamette valley. Industry and intelligent enterprise have well nigh overcome the disadvantages of situation and placed the Eastern Oregon product on an equality in the markets with that of the more favored western section. And the producers of Eastern Oregon have not halted in their efforts of improvement. Importations of fine-wool sheep are frequent, and methods of cleaning and shipping are improving with each season. The grade is steadily advancing, and a few seasons more will make it quotable as a favorite in the great markets. It behooves the wool producers of the Willamette valley to improve their flocks. The cost of putting good blood into a flock of a thousand sheep is trifling, and in a little while, is many times repaid in heavier and better coats. The cost of producing poor wool, which brings a low price, is very much greater than the cost of producing a better grade, because a small flock of high-grade sheep will produce as much as a larger flock of low-grades.

Umpqua valley wool continues to hold preeminent place in the list of Oregon wools, but it begins to show the results of careless breeding. The feed, the climate, the character of the range of the Umpqua valley are unexcelled anywhere for the production of fine wools, and the growers of that locality would do well to improve these advantages. Their wool now brings better prices than the product of any other section of the Pacific coast. In this matter reputation is money, and the Umpqua people would do well to bear this in mind.

Oregon has the facilities for becoming the greatest wool-producing state in the union. Every requisite for production of the finest grades of wool in great quantities may be found here. These opportunities have not failed to attract wool growers, and already wool production is one of our most profitable industries. But our growers as a rule operate on the mistaken principle of 'more sheep more wool.' Only last week we quoted from a census bulletin statements which should interest every wool grower. It was shown that the wool clip of the whole country for 1880 (the year to which all the returns furnished by the bulletins refer) was—in round numbers—155,000,000 pounds from 35,000,000 sheep, against 100,000,000 pounds from 28,000,000 sheep in 1870. This shows that while the number of sheep has increased only 25 per cent., the wool product has increased 55 per cent. Ohio clipped 25,000,000 pounds of wool from 3,000,000 sheep, or an average of 8¼ pounds to the fleece. California with a million more sheep than Ohio sheared but 17,000,000 pounds, or only 4¼ pounds to the fleece. It is scarcely necessary to direct the attention of practical men to the advantages of heavy coat flocks. The cost of breeding and maintenance, and the expense of shearing, without considering the difference in the qualities and the consequent advantage in price of fine large coats, are considerations which need but to be hinted. While we make it a point to increase our flocks, we should also make it a point to improve them. Oregon will support more sheep than California, and our breeders ought to see to it that our sheep are better ones. They may as well have the heavy average fleeces of Ohio as the light average fleeces of California.

RESERVOIRS FOR RIVERS.

Congress is seriously considering a plan presented by the engineer corps of the war department to provide enormous reservoirs on the upper Mississippi and its tributaries, to equalize the flow of water in the great river, so as to prevent inundations on the one hand and to supply water for the season of difficult navigation of the lower river on the other. The members from Wisconsin and Minnesota are working earnestly for it, and appear to have succeeded in interesting in it many members from states which border on the river in its lower course, where the great stream alternately overflows the country or is too shallow for navigation. It is claimed that at a cost of $2,000,000 reservoirs can be constructed that will retain the excess of water in the spring, which, being gradually released toward the end of summer, will add four feet to the depth of the river channel during not less than one hundred days in each year. Engineers pronounce the scheme entirely practicable. The pending river and harbor bill contains, if we mistake not, a considerable appropriation for a beginning of the work, both at the head of the Mississippi and on the Chippewa and St. Croix rivers.

It would be as desirable to apply this system to the Columbia as to the Mississippi, but probably not so practicable. The sources of the Mississippi and of its upper tributaries are in a comparatively level country which abounds in lakes, rendering it easy to obtain a large surface or area for accumulation of the surplus waters, while the Columbia and all its tributaries come from mountainous districts affording few lakes or level tracts. Undoubtedly, however, many places might be selected where construction of the reservoirs would be practicable. An aggregate surface equal to that of one of the lakes—say Lake Michigan or Lake Erie—would afford room for keeping back enough of the surplus to materially diminish the volume of the river during the season of freshet and to add to the supply later in the season when it is needed to facilitate navigation.

At first view the idea may appear quite utopian but engineers of eminence confidently say that it can be put in successful operation on the upper Mississippi, and it is not unlikely that the time may come when inquiry will be made under direction of the government to ascertain whether it may not be practicable also for other rivers including the Columbia.

AN INTERESTING HISTORY.

A few days ago the New York Herald presented an elaborate history of the finances of the American metropolis covering a period of 230 years. When New York was known as New Amsterdam an entry was made in the books of the old burgomasters showing that even in those days the city was in financial difficulty. Hendricks Hendricksz, the city drummer was asked to wait awhile for his pay forty guilders ($16) as there was not money enough in the city's [illegible] to pay him.

In 1654 the city debt of New York began with the modest sum of [illegible] works in anticipation of war with the English. Then followed the occupation by the English in 1664 and in 167[illegible] the city [illegible] reduced to £100, which was cleared off the following year by a general tax. In those early colonial days debts and public improvements grew very slowly. The annual income of New York in 1710 was £394 7s 6d and the expenditure £277 4s 0d. A century later in 1812, the legislature was asked for leave to fund the city debt, amounting to $900,000. From this time on the debt began to grow with amazing rapidity. By 1839 the funded liabilities amounted to $7,716,105 and the city's assets were put down at $2,000,000. Then came the construction of the Croton water works and the purchase and embellishment of Central park. Between 1857 and 1867 the debt increased from $10,690,538 to $33,914,421. The Tweed ring then got hold of the expenditures of New York city, and in the five years which followed the debt jumped up to the startling figure of $95,582,153. The impetus given to the debt creating system was felt until 1876 when it reached the maximum of $119,811,310. In 1872 a reform administration got hold of the city's finances and its work began to bear fruit after 1876, so that now the debt has been reduced below $100,000,000.

It has been frequently predicted that under a government of universal and to a large extent irresponsible suffrage, the debt of the city would not only never be reduced, but would go on increasing to the utmost extent of the ability of the city to carry it. But it looks now as if the city might yet be redeemed from debt. The gain in that direction in six years would seem to warrant such expectation.

A body of nearly fourteen thousand teachers in the public elementary schools in England are protesting vigorously against the over-pressure on scholars and teachers under the educational code of that country. It is stated that inspectors, school managers and school boards attach so much importance to the mere percentage of passes in the annual examinations, and seem so incapable of taking into account the higher result of moral and intellectual training or the quality of the passes, that teachers are compelled, against their will, to adopt a cramming system, and to bring undue pressure upon dull and weak children, in order to keep up the reputation of the schools, and to maintain their professional position. The teachers attribute this to the fact that, practically, the code is based on the principle that all children can progress at the same rate, and that its provisions endanger the so-called "results" if such children are educated naturally. The same complaints can justly be made concerning the American system. Its erroneous methods are in constant use in our own city schools.

The finest field of racing horses ever collected on the Pacific Coast will meet at the City View Park next week. Eighty animals among them the celebrated trotters Dexter, Milton Medium, Sweet Home, Maggie Arnold, Tempest and Pedro, and the noted running horses Fred Collier, Joe Howell, Trade Dollar, Billy Coombs, Jim Merritt, Lu Spencer and Connor, and as fine a field of young blood as ever stepped the turf will contest for purses aggregating several thousand dollars. The Northwestern District Agricultural Society by prompt payment of liberal purses is doing much for the racing blood of the state, and by the fair conduct of its meetings and exclusion of banking games from its grounds is redeeming the Oregon turf so long the almost exclusive sport of jockies and gamblers.

The law makers at Washington are engaged in dignified and highly statesman-like efforts to make records which shall influence votes in the coming congressional contests. The republicans fearing general indignation on account of their trifling with revenue reform have proposed certain measures which the democrats are doing their best to hinder with the purpose of defeating them and then putting the blame of failure upon the republicans. The effort is not to legislate for the best interests of the country but to fix issues to carry before the people.

At the Palouse Baptist association which was in session at Colfax last week the committee on moral reform movements made a report on the evils that follow the traffic in intoxicating drinks saying: "Iowa has just passed a prohibitory law by a majority of 40,000, and Oregon sends a petition backed by 27,000 signers asking protection from the fearful enemy to her legislature." We trust this just denunciation of the fearful enemy to our legislature will receive proper attention. But how did they find it out in Colfax?

The commissioner of the pension office says he has "in sight" $214,000,000 for arrears of pensions, and still the claims are coming in.

The proceedings in the star route matter demonstrate one thing clearly and that is that the whole business will amount to nothing.

There is an unaccountable lull at the other end of the line. We haven't had a word about Guiteau's cadaver for two days.

CITY.

Hotel Burglary.—J. A. La Bonte was captured yesterday morning in the room of a man named Ketchum, while in the act of going through the latter's pockets. La Bonte is a man of leisure who has been living at the Clarendon for a month past Both he and Ketchum roomed in the mansard roof of the house. Thursday morning when Ketchum arose he missed $30 50 from a buckskin purse which was in his pantaloons pocket under his pillow The garment had evidently been taken out from under his head and replaced while he slept. Thursday night he did not sleep so soundly, having his own suspicions as to the thief He had said nothing about the money missed but had made a display of more coin about the hotel and, having baited his trap, lay down to catch his mouse About half-past 3 in the morning he heard some one climbing along the gutter of the roof and in a few minutes a man crept through the window into the room Ketchum lay still until the man advanced to the bed and began to softly pull at the breeches which were again folded up under the pillow Then Ketchum rose up and caught the intruder yelling so lustily that the hotel was soon aroused, and policemen Beach and Belcher came in and took Monsieur LaBonte to jail

Back to the Penitentiary —The two convicts Smith and McKern, who were brought here from Salem to stand a trial for highway robbery, were taken back to the penitentiary by Sheriff Sears yesterday They were brought into court to plead in their convict dress, and with the heavy shackles still riveted to their legs It was with the understanding that they should remain so ironed that they were permitted to be taken out of the penitentiary, but Judge Stott, believing that these things might affect a jury in their trial, issued an order to have them removed This was done and two of the prisoners in the jail loaned their own clothes to the convicts, when they were taken back to the court room They pleaded not guilty, and claimed they had witnesses that would require two weeks time to obtain The court therefore set their case for the opening day of the fall term, September 4 Sheriff Sears preferred to return them to the penitentiary during the interval, rather than run the risk of their escaping from his hands Hence the trip yesterday Baker, who was sentenced yesterday, will also be taken by Sheriff Sears to Salem this morning, and "Hickory" Johnson will go to-night in charge of Deputy Sheriff Powell

Finding of the Lost Children —The three children of Mr Curry of East Portland, who were lost in the woods Thursday, were found by the search party which set out that night They were with their mother and aunt in the woods on Johnson creek about six miles southeast of the city when they separated It was about 10 o'clock in the morning when they left their mother to go to the wagon by which they had come to the woods A short time after the mother returned to the wagon and found her children missing She immediately began calling and searching for them, but without avail A gentleman who was also berrying returned to East Portland immediately for Mr Curry The latter with four neighbors, returned to the woods and scoured the neighboring country About dark the children were heard from near Willsburg two and a half miles from their starting point to reach which place they must have made their way through dense thickets and tangled brush From Willsburg they took the railroad track and were found near the machine shop completely exhausted The ages of the children were ten, five and four years They were all right yesterday, and are a source of admiration to their playmates

Brave Frenchmen —Wednesday afternoon, Gustave Bodros and Chas Guilliaume, two Frenchmen working for Sam Elmore, while drifting in the river opposite the old saw mill, saw a boat capsized with four men hanging to her keel There was a heavy sea at the time, but with characteristic bravery, the two men, unmindful of the great danger they were incurring, went to the rescue They succeeded in saving all four, and in place of certain death the rescued party had nothing more serious to suffer than a cold bath and a fearful fright The men deserve the warmest commendation for their fearlessness —Astorian.

Swift Winged Justice.—William Baker was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by Judge Stott yesterday He was arrested on Wednesday night for stealing $200 from his uncle, Perry G Baker had a preliminary examination in a justice's court on Thursday morning, was bound over to appear before the grand jury, indicted by the latter body within an hour after, arraigned before Judge Stott the same afternoon and allowed one day to plead Friday he pleads guilty, is sentenced, and Saturday morning is taken to the penitentiary by Sheriff Sears Time, 3 days

Dignity of the Court Preserved —Andy Mabie caused the arrest of Patrick Martin for taking a hack belonging to the former and driving it about the streets in a drunken spree until the springs were broken. The trial started to come off in Justice Bushw ller's court yesterday and Mabie had occasion to remark that his honor was an old fool The court said its dignity should be preserved at all hazards and committed Mr Mabie to jail for five days. This stopped the trial for lack of a prosecuting witness Maybe he will get out before the time is up and Maybe he won t

George Wright Post Reunion —The regular monthly reunion of the members of George Wright post, G A R, was held last evening at their hall The main features of this gathering are the excellent lunch set out and the old camp stories that are told by the veterans present One extra feature at this meeting was the presentation of a silver spoon to Comrade C G Staples, in honor of his little son, the latest born to any member of the post The spoon was handsomely engraved with the boy's name O M Staples, and explaining the present

Sellwood, the New Town —A map of the new town of Sellwood was filed in the county clerk's office yesterday, showing the streets already laid out with the names which have been given to them There are 320 acres in the plat, and 15 streets running north and south with 11 east and west The site is on the east bank of the river above the City View Driving park Lots will be placed on the market at once The Sellwood Real Estate company reserve all rights of water gas, street railway and telephone communications.

Morrow's Body Recovered —The body of Almon Morrow the man drowned while bathing in the slough above the water works last Wednesday has been recovered The water has been warm the past week and the body rose to the surface sooner than usual. Coroner Cooke held an inquest yesterday and the jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning An old friend of Morrow testified that the deceased was a native of Buchanan county, Missouri and was 32 years of age His remains were buried by his friends

Going for Fish.—A fishing party composed of ex County Clerk Borthwick, Deputies Woods and Henshaw Assistant District Attorney Mulkey Jerry Colwell of the Standard, and Blake the light weight reporter of the Telegram start out to Clackamas county hunting for trout this afternoon They have selected a stream near which a number of Indians live and having provided themselves with leads and other 'ictas,' good results may be expected

Simmons Gets the Money —The county court in awarding to Constable Simmons the reward of $1000 offered for the arrest of the murderers of J N Brown required that he should give a bond to protect the county in case an appeal to a higher court should be taken by the other claimants Simmons filed his bond yesterday with the county clerk and a warrant on the county treasurer was given him for the full amount of the reward

Gerdes May Recover —The injuries of Jacob Gerdes who was thrown out of a wagon by a runaway horse Thursday night, are not so severe as at first supposed by the physicians His condition was much easier last night and he was semi conscious Fears of concussion of the brain are past Unless inflammation of the brain should set in it is possible he may recover

Cricket Match —The first game of the season will take place on the South Portland grounds this afternoon Wickets will be pitched at 3 o clock All cricketers are invited to be present and to make themselves known to members of the club Sides will be chosen on the ground and the game will in all probability be married vs. single players,

New Buildings on G Street —Capt. John Harlow has begun the erection of new brick buildings on the site of his former residence, corner of G and East Park The buildings will have a north front of 100 feet, and will be two stories high Their nearness to the proposed depot will soon bring them into demand

Incorporated —The Multnomah Street Railway Company filed articles of incorporation yesterday capital stock $50 000 incorporators D E Budd W A Scoggin and B L Norden This is the company which propose to build on Washington and Eleventh streets

Open Temperance Society — The regular meeting will be held this evening at the hall on Morrison street between Third and Fourth Address by Dr A G Cook of Oakland Cal Piano duet by Miss Blackwood and Miss Maxwell

Vandalism —The glass in the windows of the new dwelling of Mr Peter Taylor, corner of First and Meade streets, were broken by stones on Thursday evening The offenders will be summarily dealt with if caught

Permitted to Resign —Policeman Charles Mathieu who was charged by the chief with conduct unbecoming an officer was permitted to resign without an investigation to the city council and did so yesterday

Temporarily Laid Up —The steamer Fleetwood will lay up a few days for slight repairs She will resume trips to Astoria leaving here on time next Tuesday morning,

Picnic —There will be in conjunction with the base ball game at Oregon City to morrow a picnic and ball at that beautiful resort known as the "Falls City Park

The Vancouver Ferry —The water having subsided so that the road through the bottoms is clear the Vancouver ferry will resume trips to morrow

"FETE NATIONALE FRANCAISE."

CELEBRATION OF THE TAKING OF THE BASTILE.

The French Residents of Portland Observe Their National Holiday by Festivities at Turn Halle—Oration by Capt. Martin, Etc.

When the handful of Frenchmen met five weeks ago to make arrangements for celebrating their national holiday, they little knew what interest was felt here in that great event Committees were appointed and before their work was fairly commenced they learned that hundreds of their countrymen hitherto unknown to them were anxious to participate So great was the demand for tickets that only as many as the hall could accommodate were issued At eight o clock last night a brilliant crowd of ladies and gentlemen met in Turn Halle to listen to the literary and musical exercises The interior of the hall was beautifully decorated and the balcony outside was draped with bunting and evergreens In the center of the stage was a statue of liberty and over the proscenium arch a triple escutcheon of France America and Switzerland surrounded by a wreath and resting on the inscription "Liberte Egalite Fraternite They were executed specially for this occasion by Morrotti & Brezzeni From the center of the room to the walls like sun's rays were suspended streamers of red of white and of blue bunting while the walls were adorned with entwined French and American flags surmounted by escutcheons bearing the names of Grevy, Victor Hugo Louis Blanc Lafayette St Just Danton Rousseau Wm Tell Voltaire Vergniaud Thiers Marat, Carnot, Marceau, Hoche Desmoulins Garibaldi and Washington The hall—often the scene of festive gatherings—with the tasteful decorations and handsomely dressed crowd never presented

A MORE BRILLIANT APPEARANCE

than on this occasion Shortly after eight the assemblage was called to order by Mr C Pater president After the rendition of La Marseillaise and The Star Spangled Banner by Varney & Bray's orchestra, Mr Pater thanked the audience for their presence and introduced Hon A Labbe the honorary president, who in choice words referred to the loyalty of his countrymen and said that however far they happened to be from their native land, they never forgot their loving duty to dear old France Captain Felix Martin was next introduced and delivered the address of the evening of which the following is a translation

CAPT MARTIN S SPEECH

Mr Consul, Mr President, Ladies and Gentlemen In accepting the honor to be the orator of your national holiday, I have undertaken a task difficult to fulfill and I should have positively rejected the pressing solicitations of my friends to accept that office If I had not been made aware in time that one of the first conditions of the programme of your exercises was that everything referring to songs speeches, etc, was to be brief. Conforming myself with pleasure to that programme, it remains only now to ask you to listen to me with patience during the ten minutes that I have allowed myself to say a few things concerning our reunion

We are all assembled to-day to celebrate the French national holiday and the 14th of July has been chosen for that celebration because that date reminds the French people of one historical fact very remarkable in the annals of our liberty

It was toward the middle of the ninth decade of the past century, that a few young minds imbued with the principles and ideas propagated among the high classes by the reading of the works of Voltaire, J J Rousseau, Diderot and D Alembert commenced that memorable revolution the end of which was after a few years of struggles and anarchy to give freedom, not only to the French people, but also to all Europe

From that moment everything began to be in agitation in the interior of France The provinces were making their war of guerrillas and were forcing the nobility to make concessions to the people and modify their privileges The countries were organizing for resistance and were sending towards Paris their best and bravest men knowing well that it was there that the last and decisive battle for liberty was to be fought, and we all know well gentlemen Paris is France, Paris is the luminous center from which radiates all that is grand, noble generous Paris is not only the center of France but also of the civilized world

The people had without doubt, obtained already a great many advantages, and many concessions had been made by the sovereign but nothing was secured and all that had been obtained after so many hardships and sacrifices could be withdrawn at the king's will because he had yet in the middle of the capital a formidable fortress the name of which alone was inspiring terror—the Bastile Who is the one intelligent gentleman who has not often shuddered with fear and anger at the hearing of the crimes without number to which that heap of stone has been the silent witness? How many tears of blood have been shed in those dark dungeons? How many cries of sorrow and despair have been smothered in those infamous oubliettes, and how many bright and young minds have been forever deprived of their liberty and buried alive in that human charnel, the door of which always open to receive the victims was seldom opened to let escape their prey as it is on the front of that cursed gate that they ought to have written what the immortal Dante had written on the door of his hell "Lasciate ogni speranza voi que entrate" That standing threat in the middle of Paris, was keeping the people in a state of feverish excitement A crisis was imminent It was then towards the middle of 89 and the tropical rays of July sun together with the revolutionary idea sown purposely among the people had brought their minds to that pitch of effervescence which undertakes the accomplishment of things judged to be impossible in a normal state The 14th of July 1789 opened splendid and radiant, and the sun had scarcely shown above the horizon when a cry of war rage and revenge arose on the air shouted by 50 000 Republican throats shaking the foundations of the old fortress and brought to the garrison the tidings that the last hours of the feodalite and the monarchy had come The slaughter was terrible and during the half a day that the fight lasted many heroic deeds took place Victory was for a long time uncertain but God was protecting France and after a grand and sublime effort from our fathers the last bulwark of tyranny and despotism fell into the hands of the people sovereign and as you see very often grow the most beautiful flowers and ripen the most delicious fruit on malarious soil so those charnel ers of torture those infamous oubliettes and dark dungeons gave birth to the square of liberty From that time many efforts were made by the monarchy to regain power It succeeded some times but it was always of short duration Despotism was a thing of the past and the people enlightened understood well that only one government was possible for France the government of the people for the people and by the people In a word the Republic one and indivisible

It is then from that memorable day of the taking of the Bastile that really commences the era of our liberty, and that is the reason why the government of France has chosen the anniversary of that date for the celebration of the national holiday

My time is getting short, gentlemen and I should not like to pass the limit but how to speak of those heroic deeds of our forefathers without being prone to speak and speak more, and the one who at this moment has the honor to address this assembly is one whose heart has been very much cooled by the storms of nearly 60 winters feels how his blood running as when among the national battalions he was fighting in 1848 for the rights of the people

My task is done ladies and gentlemen but before leaving you allow me to make a last remark and address you a prayer In looking over those who surround me, I see with joy that France has lost none of its friends and we have here representatives of nearly every nation and their presence among us in doing them honor casts upon our fete a new splendor Let us remain French gentlemen and though the distance which separates us from the mother country be as great as the furthest limits let us remain French and rally always round the national flag If the exigencies of our venturous career have brought us on these far away shores to a friendly nation which has welcomed sheltered and treated us as her own sons let us keep faithfully our oath to her let us execute honestly all our engagements towards her but let us never forget that we are born Frenchmen and that if we want to retain the esteem of the brave people on whose soil we have pitched our tents and deserve the respect of other nations we must faithful to our flag remain forever the sons of France

This is a good opportunity to make public what only the intimate friends of Capt Martin know viz that he wears the cross of the Legion of Honor It was presented to him in 1851 for continued acts of bravery on land and on the sea At the age of nineteen while in the French navy he was the first to volunteer to take a boat from his vessel in a terrific storm and carry a line to a stranded ship When in command of a ship in the merchant marine he saved a crew of twenty men from a sinking ship Under Bazaine in Mexico and with the Guard at Paris, he rendered distinguished services and he bears his honors meekly

The speech was followed by a chorus "Les Enfants de la Republique" vocal solos by Misses Louise and Julie Pater and Mr Lombard violin solo by Mr Thibau vocal duet by Messrs Pointis and Glosset all rendered in a pleasing manner The exercises closed with "La Marseillaise" sung by Miss Rachael Manciet in splendid style electrifying the audience and receiving tremendous applause and a hearty encore

Dancing was then begun and continued until midnight when supper was announced

Plates were set in the gymnasium for two hundred and fifty guests, who enjoyed an excellent menu prepared by Portal Toasts and speeches by Messrs Pater Labbe Martin Blake McGinn Lobe Foley and other gentlemen followed The lateness of the hour prevents a report of the speeches which had not ended at 2 o clock this morning

SOMETHING ELEGANT

In passing the store of F S Chadbourne & Co yesterday afternoon our attention was called to a fine parlor suite that they were putting in their windows for display In richness and beauty it far out rivaled anything of the kind ever exhibited in this city before The material is illuminated plush embossed with a trimming of dark crimson satin and silk fringe to match overskirted with a silk old gold [illegible] Upon inquiry we learned that the suit was made to order and will be on exhibition for only two days Don't fail to see it as every piece is a gem and made with a view of combining comfort with elegance

COLFAX IN ASHES.

The Oregonian received the following meager telegram at noon yesterday

Colfax, W T via Almota, July 14 —Six business blocks burned only a few buildings on Main street left standing full particulars to-morrow no telegraph here

The dispatch was probably sent by the morning stage from Colfax to Almota Several insurance managers received like telegrams but none with any further particulars Our correspondents at Dayton and Spokane Falls were asked for further particulars but each was too far distant to obtain anything in addition to the above The line to Colfax belongs to the government and the supposition is that the office together with instruments was consumed

Mr William Lippett of the firm of Lippett Bros merchants at Colfax who is in the city received a telegram that their fire-proof cellar was safe but no further intelligence He estimates the firm's loss about $35 000, on which they have an insurance of $25 000 Nearly every company represented in Portland has risks in the devastated city Careful estimates by managers here place the loss at about $300 000 and the insurance from $200 000 to $250 000

THE PARATE EXCURSION

Card from the Star Base Ball Club

A man named Eaton, lost to all sense of fairness has engaged a boat and issued tickets for our excursion to Oregon City next Sunday Attempting to injure the interests of a club that offers all the attractions and must do all the work by running a boat in opposition is bad enough but the issuing of tickets and circulars bearing the club's name with the design of giving the impression that they are put out by us is grossly deceptive and dishonorable We believe reputable people only need to be warned against such attempts at fraud and piracy Our friends are asked to remember that we have engaged the steamer McCully and the covered barge Cascades and that Varney & Bray's band will furnish music for dancers also that we will leave the foot of Morrison street at 10 o clock and that objectionable characters will not be permitted on our boat

THE A. O. U. W.

Important Amendment to the Constitution Relative to Members Suspended for Non-Payment of Dues—Sinking Fund Proposed.

The most important business transacted by the grand lodge of A O U W at their session just closed at Olympia except of course the clam bake was the adoption of the following section in the new constitution

Any beneficiary certificate suspended by reason of non payment of assessments thereon may be renewed if the member be living at any time within a period of three months from the date of suspension upon the following conditions and none other that is to say 1st All assessments that have been made during that time shall be paid 2d This fact shall be reported to the lodge at a stated meeting. 3d The lodge shall by a majority vote declare said certificate renewed When all these conditions shall have been complied with the beneficiary certificate shall be held as renewed and in full force and not before

Heretofore the constitution has not been clear on this subject Some lodges held that the payment of dues alone was sufficient to restore a member to the benefits without formal action of the lodge and courts in several cases have thus decided Under the section above quoted beneficiary certificates can only be renewed by a majority vote of the lodge

The question of creating a reserve or sinking fund has been discussed in many lodges for the past year and was brought before the grand lodge Sentiment for and against the measure was about equally divided It is well known that in all orders which pay benefits to the families of members the older ones sold on with less and to keep the ranks filled up with young men is no easy matter. The fund is proposed for two reasons First to be drawn from in case of excessive death rate from epidemics or other causes and second to insure to young men that their burden of assessments will not be greater as they advance in years The question as to how the fund shall be created was referred to a committee of five who will report to the grand master and he will submit their report to the subordinate lodges Grand Master Child has not yet named the committee but will do so in a few days

CONGREGATIONAL ASSOCIATION

Of Oregon and Washington at The Dalles.

FIRST DAY

On Thursday July 13th the association was called to order at the Congregational church and on calling the roll nine ministers and thirty one delegates were found to be present representing fourteen churches thirteen were not represented

Rev B S Stubbs was elected as moderator Rev M Fells clerk and Rev G H Himes assistant clerk after which the meeting was opened by devotional exercises led by Dr Marvin and Rev P S Knight The following new ministers and churches then became members of the body Rev F T Clark of Spokane Falls Rev N F Cobleigh of Walla Walla Rev T R Marvin of Portland Rev E B Loomis of North Portland and Rev J W Harris of Albany The church at Walla Walla W T, organized about 1864 at Jamestown Clallam Co W T organized April 1882 Ritzville Whitman Co W T organized April 1882, Naches, Yakima Co W T organized May 1882, and the one at Hillsboro Or organized last April

Rev J F Ellis of Seattle Rev A C Wright missionary of the American Sunday School Union and Rev O D Taylor of the Baptist church at the Dalles reservation were invited to sit as corresponding members

The subject of the ministry and the schools was opened by Dr Atkinson who was followed by Dr Marvin Messrs Spaulding E P Roberts T B Conden E Gerry Parrish and Cobleigh and Mrs De Marsh The general drift of the discussion was upon the education of our own ministry in our own schools or in some divinity school to be established in the not distant future it was hoped The relative advantages of eastern and western men and of eastern and western education for the ministry of seminary instruction and that with some minister in the pastoral work were all discussed

In the afternoon the first subject on the list was the Law and the Gospel in the Temperance Work opened by Rev P S Knight He favored both law and gospel, the law not as the only remedy for the evil for it cannot be a complete remedy for any evil but as a schoolmaster to bring to Christ who alone can purify the heart

A letter was read from Dr W Watts president of the state Temperance Alliance an address by the executive committee of that alliance and a petition to the legislature in favor of a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture sale or giving away any or all kinds of spirituous vinous malt or any other intoxicating liquor except for medical scientific or mechanical purposes Whereupon it was moved to adopt the petition and give it our endorsement The motion was earnestly supported by Dr Atkinson and Messrs O D Taylor of the Baptist church, Harris and the moderator and adopted by a unanimous rising vote

The Sabbath school and church was opened with an address by Rev F T Clark of Spokane Falls, who spoke of Christ as a great preacher and teacher and the Sabbath school as the carrying on of the same work among the children He was followed by Mr Bower who has been collecting statistics on some points for the first time among our Sabbath schools some of which were not very flattering Yet it is well to know them in order to remedy them Twenty seven schools had answered his inquiries and seven had not In these there are sixteen hundred and sixty one scholars and teachers In thirteen Sabbath schools the teachers are appointed by the superintendent in four elected by the scholars and in one by the church Only two schools hold teachers meetings and one of these is suspended There is no normal training class Thirty three and two thirds per cent of the church members in the Oregon churches and 57 per cent in the Washington churches are in the Sabbath schools The difference is owing mainly to the fact that nearly all the large churches are in Oregon Only 33 have been admitted from the schools to the churches during the past year Only two schools in Oregon and one in Washington are contributing for missionary purposes Not one fifth report about library books This was followed by a wide discussion in which a dozen persons took part on the relation of the school to the church and what the official connection should be It was thought by one that some of the schools were becoming too independent of the church and might have to be treated as the secessionists were by others that the connection between the two was vital and sufficient though not official One school has discarded books as being too much like novels and substituted papers One gentleman favored the word Sabbath school instead of Sunday school and another was about ready to substitute the Bible for the Sabbath school quarterlies

A correspondent writes A sea bay is blessed with good crops this season plenty of honey and grass Everybody is looking for better times We want 1000 families to settle upon and develop the vacant lands that lie tributary to our bay The bay alone would give employment to several hundred men if we had sufficient capital invested here to utilize our fish and timber resources The large area of land that is available for settlement is well adapted to the production of grasses affording green feed the year through which places it in the front rank as a dairy country It is also a good climate for bee culture

In presenting our Segars to the public, we direct attention to the following facts:
The reputation attained by our firm for our brands, in this and foreign countries, is superior to that of any other manufacturers in the United States. This has been secured after an experience of nearly 20 years in the manufacturing of Segars and manipulation of Tobaccos, and we assure the public that no pains will be spared to maintain this hard-earned reputation.
Our Segars are all MADE IN OUR OWN FACTORIES, and under our own immediate supervision. WE MAKE NO SEGARS IN TENEMENT HOUSES. We shall always use the best material the market affords. Our Segars will always be free from adulterations of any kind, and under OUR BRANDS the smoker may rely upon honest and acceptable goods.

THE DODO.

The Wonderful Animal and Its Strange Peculiarities.

Brooklyn Eagle.

"Professor, what is a Dodo?"

"There are several species of the Dodo, my son, and there used to be several more before the fool-killer cut the country up into regular districts."

"Please describe some of them to me?"

"With pleasure. You have probably attended a Sunday-school picnic given on the banks of a river or lake? Six fat women, two girls who wear eye-glasses, and a very good boy who lisps make up a party to take a ride on the water. As they are ready to shove off the Dodo appears and keeps them company."

"What is he like and what does he do?"

"He is generally a soft-headed young man under 24 years of age, and he stands up and rocks the boat to hear the fat women scream and induce the girls to call him Gweorge."

"Does the boat upset?"

"It does."

"And is everybody drowned?"

"Everybody except the Dodo. He always manages to reach the shore in safety, and he is always so sorry that it happened. He is sometimes so affected that it takes away his appetite for lunch."

"And is anything done with him?"

"They sometimes rub his head with a cheap brand of peppermint essence and turn him out to grass, but no one ever thinks of doing him harm."

"And the next species?"

"The next species is a youth from 16 to 20. He labors under what the ancients termed the swell-head. He gets out the family shotgun or revolver to show off. He points it at some boy or girl to see 'em shiver, and after he has testified before the coroner that he didn't know it was loaded, the affair is looked upon as ended."

"Is this species on the increase?"

"Well, no. The friends of the victims have got to making such a fuss over these trifles that the didn't-know-it-was-loaded Dodo isn't quite holding his own."

"What is the third species?"

"The third species belong to the female sex. Of course there are two sexes of the Dodo. She buys arsenic to kill rats, or corrosive sublimate to discourage bed-bugs, or paris green to give cockroaches a hint to skip, and she leaves the package on the pantry shelf alongside of her baking-powder. She may keep 'em separate for two or three days, but it isn't over a week before the family begins to lose their appetite and hire a cheap boy to go for a doctor and a stomach-pump."

"And is she sorry?"

"Oh, yes. She didn't mean to, you know; never thought of killing the family; always lived happy with her husband; had entirely forgotten that he had any life insurance; was in a hurry and didn't stop to look."

"And is there yet another species of Dodo?"

"Several others, but we haven't time to take 'em in detail and give full particulars in each case. The man who thinks the best horse wins is a Dodo. The woman who gets into society on the strength of her false hair, small waist, painted eye-brows, chalked cheeks and cramped feet is a Dodo. The man who thinks he can take comfort on a steamboat excursion; the woman who weeps over the heathen; the girl who writes poetry on the sunsets; the young man looking for a necktie to become him; the old man who marries a young wife; why, it would take me an hour to mention them all. Put away your books in a careful manner and we will walk out and see some live specimens of the Dodo. I know one who was engaged to deliver a Fourth of July oration, and perhaps we may get a shot at him."

THE TURF.

Hon. A. Belmont, New York, has sold to Mr. H. T. Howard the ch. f., foaled 1880, by imp. Ill-Used, dam Lady Blessington, by imp. Eclipse, out of Philo, by Mariner.

Dr. Talmage has now gone in for the defence of horse-racing. We may now sorrowfully contemplate the speedy decadence of this exciting and excellent sport.

Mr. Belmont's sale was such a success that he feels encouraged to devote himself to the pursuit of breeding fine racing stock. He has sold Camillus to Mr. Daley, and has in turn repurchased Bellona (Jessie D.), by The Ill-Used—Beatrice, who will be used as a brood-mare.

The chestnut horse Corystes, foaled 1874, by Asteroid, dam Edina, by imp. Knight of St. George, out of Edith, by imp. Sovereign, has recently been purchased by John Bradford, of Big Lake, Minn.

William Hendrie, of Hamilton, Ont., recently lost by death the ch. g. Lord Glasgow, foaled 1881, by Big Sandy, imp. Eastern Star, by Cape Flyaway, out of Star of India, by Longbow. The cause of death was lockjaw, resulting from castration.

Polk Price has sold to Webb C. Garth, Trenton, Ky., the b.m., foaled 1876, by Pat Malloy, dam Lula, by Childe Harold, out of Fraxinella, Jr., by imp. Autocrat. The mare has been bred to Pienipo, son of imp. Bonnie Scotland, and the result of this cross ought to make a racehorse.

Wm. Lakeland has recently purchased of E. E. Eagle, Lexington, Ky., the b g Glenullen (4), by imp. Glenelg, dam La Rieve, by Lightning, out of Olio, by Oliver. Glenullen is a well-bred horse, and will no doubt constitute a valuable addition to Mr. Lakeland's string. Price paid, $1500.

The California two-year-old colt Gano, who performed so magnificently at the spring meeting of the Pacific Coast Blood Horse Association, winning the California and Cooper stakes, met with an accident in the Chicago driving park which might easily have resulted seriously. He was being given a strong gallop in company with two other youngsters, and was running directly in the rear of his stable companions. A harrow was being drawn along the track at the time. The colts in front of Gano turned to each side of the harrow, but Gano jumped directly into it, scraping his near hind leg badly. He is not permanently injured, however.

The success of the Missouri-bred horse in the Citizen's Plate at St. Louis set the the Missourians wild with delight. Mr. Hunt was overwhelmed with congratulations when his horse was led back after the race, and Mr. Roche, the well-known book-maker, offered him $2500 for the horse on the spot, which was declined. Mr. Hunt was asked whether he had won any money on the race. He replied: "I never bet. Racing is the only amusement I have. The expense of the stable and the entrance money is about as much as I dare to invest in the amusement. If my horses win the stakes, and pay the expenses, that is all I want."

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Washington Territory.

A slight frost visited Puyallup valley last Tuesday.

It is estimated that 2000 people celebrated the 4th at Moscow.

Moscow has a library of nearly 400 volumes and a membership of 100.

There are in the Goldendale school district 120 boys and 112 girls of school-age.

F. M. Splawn, of Klickitat county, killed a hog last week that weighed 703 pounds.

Mrs. Henrietta Lyon died at her home in Washington county on the 4th inst., aged 83 years.

A new Presbyterian parsonage is to be built at Tacoma. It will be 22x40 feet, two stories high.

New hay has been sold in New Tacoma by Indian farmers the past week for $13 and $14 per ton.

About 800 loads of lime and stone will be used in building the new Episcopal church at Tacoma.

The expenditures of Washington county for the past year were $18,435 82. The county is only about $1000 in debt and has $9414 in the treasury.

The demand for lumber, lime, sand, brick and stone for building purposes in New Tacoma employs not less than twenty men and fifty horses daily.

The present dry weather is seriously affecting the hop fields in Puyallup valley, and unless rain comes soon the yield this year will be far below that of last season.

Rev. H. Patterson, on account of ill health, resigned the office of treasurer of Washington county. He had been sworn in and furnished the required bonds. The court appointed T. W. Pittenger to fill the vacancy.

The new scow of Commodore Atkins, built at Tacoma, is nearly ready for service. The hammer for the pile-driver, weighing 3200 pounds, was cast at Seattle, and the engine came from San Francisco.

The price of logs continues high at Tacoma. They are now selling for $6 50 per thousand for lengths less than forty-two feet. For every ten feet more than forty-two, the price per thousand is increased one dollar.

Joseph Connell, who was killed last week near Hillsboro by his horse falling upon him, had been a resident of Washington county since 1875, and was at the time of his death 56 years old. A wife, eight sons and two daughters survive him.

A man named Broadley is under bonds of $1000 to answer before the Pierce county grand jury to a charge of mayhem, he having bitten off a portion of a comrade's ear in a scrimmage about some money which the former alleged the latter had stolen.

Another attempt will be made to levy a tax for school purposes in New Tacoma, August 1st being the date fixed for the special election. The amount fixed is $2500, and it is to be used in securing temporary school buildings and purchasing a site for school grounds.

During the past month several large bands of cattle have been driven from the vicinity of Moscow bound for the eastern market, going by way of Montana. One drive contained 2260 head, another 1300 and still another 1700 head, at which rate it seems as if the supply would soon run short, but as yet no perceptible decrease can be observed.

IMPORTANT TO SETTLERS.

A Decision by the Secretary of the Interior.

The secretary of the interior has given an opinion in a Nebraska case which will be of great interest and importance to large numbers of settlers on the public lands. The opinion is to the effect that the homestead act should be liberally construed, and that, in every case an actual personal and continuous residence is not necessary; in other words, where a person, although not at all times on the land, has no other recognized home, and claims and improves the land entered, in all respects showing that his claim is made in good faith, he has fulfilled the requirements of the statute. That those interested may read the opinion for themselves, we give it in full:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23, 1882.

The commissioner of the general land office:—Sir—I have considered the case of Thomas J. Edwards vs Andrew J. Sexson, involving homestead entry No. 5821, covering the S. W. ¼ of sec. 18, Tp. 3 N., R. 23 W., Nebraska, on appeal by contestant from your decision of July 14, 1880, sustaining the decision of the register and receiver and dismissing the contest.

This homestead entry was made October 14, 1878. Affidavit of contest alleging abandonment and defective cultivation was made January 12, 1880, and trial was held February 20, 1880.

A question has been raised as to the admission of the oral cross-examination of contestant's witnesses in the depositions taken before C. H. Bane, notary public upon written interrogatories on the part of the contestant. For such irregularity the testimony should have been stricken out upon the motion made for that purpose, and in considering this case the testimony so taken will be disregarded. The testimony proves satisfactorily the following facts, viz: That the defendant, Sexson, was a single man, twenty-nine years of age; that he made settlement on the land early in April, 1879, with the intention of remaining there; that he had a team, wagon, breaking-plow, cooking utensils, and some other articles of personal property; that he employed help and built a house twelve feet square, partly a dugout and partly sod, with roof of willow and earth, and an opening for a door and window. One witness, who had been acquainted with the land six years and knew the house, testifies that it was like most of the first dwellings built in that country. After building the house Sexson commenced breaking upon the lines of the land for the purpose of setting trees or hedge, and a piece for crops the ensuing year. He occupied the house a short time, eating and sleeping there. About the last of June, 1879, on account of the death of a brother, he went to the eastern part of the state to attend to some of his brother's business and some of his own that was left with his brother. He remained away until September. During his absence he spent part of his time in cultivating crops left by his brother, part in attending to his own affairs and part of the time worked out for wages.

He arrived at his homestead again September 16, 1879. He occupied the house a short time, put a door in it, and otherwise made it more comfortable for the winter. The ground was too dry for further improving it, and being out of money and having no work he again returned to the eastern part of the state. He left the house in good condition, with a bed, table, cooking utensils, crockery, clothing and some other articles of personal property in it. It was proved that a month before the trial the house was there and the personal property in it. When Sexson returned, February 10th, a short time before the trial, he found the house destroyed and all the woodwork and personal property taken away. He had no other home and returned with the intention of remaining.

The claimant, Sexson, seems to have acted in good faith and with the intention of appropriating the land to his own use and making a home of it.

The facts in the case are quite similar to those in the case of Waldo vs. Schlaiss, (Copp's Public Land Laws, p. 29). It was held in that case that "where a person, although not at all times on the land, has no other recognized home, and claims and improves the land entered, in all respects showing that his claim is made in good faith * * * that he has fulfilled the requirements of the statute." And that in every possible case an actual personal continuous residence is not necessary. And to same effect see Baker vs. Hess, W. p. 296.

I am of opinion that neither the charge of defective settlement and cultivation or that of abandonment has been sustained.

Your decision is therefore affirmed and the contest dismissed. Very respectfully,

H. M. TELLER, Secretary.

Eastern Freight Situation.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The freight market via Cape Horn, although not absolutely dull, is still very quiet. This season of the year, which is generally the most inactive, has been rendered more so by the strike of freight handlers at various railroad depots, thereby causing great delay in delivery of freight, and consequent delay in loading of ships. The latter have also met with serious delay in slow deliveries of railroad iron, which latterly had been one of the main items of cargo, comprising in every instance at least one-quarter of it. Removal of most all leading hardware houses from the cape trade has also had a tendency to render the market dull, and from all outward appearances the prospect for an active fall trade is not very promising. Rates of freight are about steady on a basis of about eight dollars per ton for dead weight. Tonnage is in moderate supply and held firmer under good demand for grain and petroleum.

Michigan Crops.

DETROIT, July 14.—Reports all concur that the wheat crop of Michigan now about ready to harvest is the largest and finest on record. The weather has been so cold heads all filled out plumply and the berry is ripe without the least signs of shrinkage and farmers have all made preparations to harvest and house it quickly. By Monday harvest will be very general. Work has commenced in southern counties already. Not one piece of poor wheat is reported in the state.

Illinois Crops.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., July 14.—The department of agriculture reports prospects encouraging for a large crop of rye. The yield per acre is large and quality superior in southern and central portions of the state. The last census gives the yield of Illinois at 3,122,000 bushels of rye, or about one-sixth of the entire country. The production and crop will be nearly or quite as large as in 1880.

San Francisco Markets.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 14.—Wheat strong at $1 73¾ spot, and future.

Barley—Feed, strong, $1 32; brewing, $1 35 bid, $1 45 asked for new, and $2 10 asked for old.

Oats—$1 75@1 80.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN,

THE

Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of

ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, or Loss of Perfect Vitality. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaints, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bowels, treated with care without fail.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.

THE BARLOW ROAD.

THE MT. HOOD AND BARLOW ROAD COMPANY having recently purchased the franchise of the "Old Barlow Road Company," announce that their road across the Cascade Mountains is open for all kinds of travel. The company having constructed a branch road from Sandy P. O. to the toll gate, up the south bank of the river Sandy, the travel will be able to avoid the long, tedious route over the "Devil's Back Bone" and the five miles of heavy sand on the old road.

The bridges are all in good repair, and all the heavy hills are graded. The company are spending large amounts of money on the road, and will spare no pains nor expense in making it the best road over the Cascade Mountains in this state. Supply stations with provisions at the Toll Gate, Summit Prairie and White River.
